

Shorthair	Siamese 4 basic colours 017 – seal 100 – blue 130 – Lilac 220 – chocolate	Oriental (pointed) SH - All pointed colour accepted -All pointed patterns accepted	Oriental (non-pointed) SH - All colour and pattern accepted	Peterbald - All colour and pattern accepted
Longhair	Balinese 4 basic colour 017 – seal 100 – blue 130 – Lilac 220 – chocolate	Oriental (pointed) LH - All pointed colour accepted -All pointed patterns accepted	Oriental (pointed) LH - All colour and pattern accepted

Balinese SH - Constituent Crossing

Oriental (pointed) SH of one of the 4 basic colours – Constituent Crossing

Oriental (pointed) LH of one of the 4 basic colours –Constituent Crossing

1 – Chats Canada Cats is in favour of the recognition (traditional Siamese or “apple head”) of the Thai as distinct breed.

2 – For registering a Siamese or a Balinese, the CCC ask for a 8 generation pedigree. Upon presentation of a 5 generation pedigree avec the DNA analysis proving that the cat corresponds to the genetic description of the breed, derogation can be given.