

RUSSIAN

The criteria distinguishing the Russian from all other breeds is its soft, lustrous, double coat. Gentle, refined and shy, it is playful in manner. Its voice is soft and sweet. It is slow in maturing and allowances to be made when judging eye colour and coat density in adolescent.

I – BODY/CONFORMATION (15)

(5) BODY - Fine boned, long, firm and muscular; lithe and graceful in outline without being tubular in appearance. Heavier in repose due to a supple skin and thick coat.

(5) LEGS & FEET - Long and fine-boned with small, neat and well rounded feet.

(5) TAIL - Long and in proportion to body. Thick at base and tapering.

II – HEAD TYPE (25)

(10) FULL FACE - Medium wedge. Muzzle is smooth and forms part of total wedge without exaggerated pinch or whisker break. The face looks wide from the position of the eyes and the thick fur on the side of the head.

(5) PROFILE - Top of skull flat and long, gently descending to slightly below eyes and continuing at a downward angle in a straight line to tip of nose. No nose break or stop. High forehead.

(5) EARS - Rather large and wide at base. Tips are more pointed than rounded. Skin on ears is thin and translucent with little inside furnishings. Outside of ear scantily covered with short, very fine hair, with leather showing through. Set far apart as much on the side of the head as on the top of head.

(5) EYES - Almost round but oval enough to show slight oriental slant. Set at least 1 1/2 eye widths apart.

III – COAT TEXTURE/LENGTH (30)

Double coat. Short, dense, fine and plush-like. It stands out from body due to thick undercoat (this may be felt best by stroking the head).

IV – COLOUR (25)

(15) COAT COLOUR - There must be uniform density of colouring. Lighter shades preferred. Silvery brilliance sought and a lustrous appearance. Nose leather slate grey. Paw pads lavender pink or mauve.

(10) EYE COLOUR - Green, preference is given to deep, even and brilliant colour. Kittens and adolescents have gold eyes but by age of four months a green ring must be around each pupil.

V – CONDITION & BALANCE (5)

Alert. Musculature to be firm and well toned. Proper proportions and balance are more important than exact size.
